IMPORTANT MEETING in BOW ISLAND

An important meeting was held in the Municipal Office at Bow Island on Thursday 1st. December.

Dr. Barrow, provincial health officer from Edmonton was present. Also delegates attended from the Municipal District of Porty Mile No. 64, Eureka No. 6, 8, and Bow Island No. 94.

Mr. Almon Grogg the Reeve of the Municipality of Bow Island was chairman. Dr. Barrow spoke with reference to the calling of that meeting, namely, medical aid to the poor people of those Districts.

The Delegates held a discussion, when it was shown that these Municipalities could do no more, as they already owed the banks for seed and Relief that it would take years to pay off and it would be an injustice to these Districts to take on any further obligations.

So it was moved by W.S. Henry of Porty Mile No. 64 and seconded by E.D. James of Bow Island No. 94 that the following Resolution be adopted and a copy sent to the Provincial Government.

Whereas the present system of having the Municipal District make loans from the banks under guarantee of the provincial government for the purpose of buying seed and seed grain to residents, seriously impairs the credit of the Municipal Districts.

And whereas Municipal Districts are held responsible for the payment of these loans, while in Unorganized Districts the same are not included in the Municipal Districts, stand responsible for money spent for relief and seed grain, where it was not possible of collection;

And whereas the Municipal Districts or the part of the province are already indebted to the banks and provincial government under government guaranteed notes, for more than they will be able to pay for years;

And whereas it is an injustice to the ratepayers in these Districts that they be compelled to assume this burden, while the whole of the province helps to pay the indebtedness in Unorganized Districts;

Be it therefore resolved by the Councils of Municipal Districts of Porty Mile No. 64, Eureka No. 65 and Bow Island No. 94, assembled this 1st. day of December, in joint meeting, that the provincial government be, and is hereby requested to finance ALL relief, medical aid or for provisions, etc. feed and seed grain direct from the provincial treasury, the same as financed in Unorganized Districts.

The Bow Island Review certainly thinks that this meeting did the "only right and proper thing" in drafting and having this resolution sent to the Provincial Government.

It is monstrous to think that there should ever have been any difference in the treatment given to Organized Districts to the Unorganized.

It has been "putting the load too much on the willing horse" as the old saying has it.

SINN FEIN LEADERS NEARLY WRECKED

BELFAST, Dec. 8.—Three members of the Sinn Fein peace delegation bound for Dublin from England were turned back on their voyage today when the steamer Cambria on which they were travelling collided with a schooner en route leaving Belfast, Head, England. The schooner was sunk and three of her crew drowned. The Cambria, although reporting only slight damages, was obliged to return to Holy Head.

The Irish delegates on the steamer were Michael Collins, Sinn Fein minister of finance George B. Duffy and E. J. Connelley. They were on their way from London after the recent conference with Mr. Lloyd George and his advisers and had been expected to take part in today's consideration by the British Treasury of the government's latest proposals for a peace.

The collision occurred at four a.m. off North Stack, Holy Head. The Cambria was on her maiden voyage when she ran down the schooner, which was virtually cut in two. The steamer went out wireless calls for aid and a lifeboat started for the scene, but meanwhile the Cambria's boats were active and rescued four of the schooner's crew.

The Cambria is a twin screw steamer of 3300 tons, 387 feet long and of steel construction.

New Alliance Official
LONDON, Dec. 8.—According to the London Times parliamentary correspondent, the government's new proposals concerning Ireland include that allegiance shall be sworn to the Irish Free State, to the commonwealth of nations known as the British Empire, and to the king as the head of the community of nations. The correspondent adds that the proposals will provide that there shall be no endorsements of religion and no religious tests in the appointment of public officers.

Won't Interfere
Holy Head, Dec. 8.—Fears that the Dublin Sinn Fein cabinet conference in civilian today would be delayed with the possible postponement of an answer to the British government's new Irish settlement proposals owing to the accident which the steamer Cambria, with three members of the Sinn Fein delegation on board, was involved early today, were dissipated when it was found possible to transfer the Cambria's passengers to another vessel. This vessel left immediately for Ireland.

The Irish envoys who were brought back to port by the Cambria after her collision with a schooner, re-embarked on the second vessel from the short winter passage from Holy Head to Dublin and will therefore arrive in Ireland this forenoon.

Peace in Ireland Irish Free State

Quick Turn of Events Brings Peace Pact in Irish Affairs at King

LONDON - Dec. 7.—King George issued a proclamation releasing all political prisoners interned in Ireland.

Approximately 3,400 interned persons are affected by the release order, which relates to all persons under internment as distinguished from those who have been tried and convicted, it was stated by the Irish office. The following announcement was made from Downing Street:

"In view of the agreement signed between the British and Irish delegations, His majesty has approved the release forthwith of all Irish interned under Articles XIV (b) of the Restoration of Order in Ireland Act. Instructions to this effect have been given."

CARDINAL SATISFIED

BELFAST, Dec. 7.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, spoke of the new Anglo-Irish agreement as "a fair enough settlement." He declined to make any further comment.

NOTES OF WARNING

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Here and there amid the general chorus of praise for the Irish agreement are sounded notes of warning that trouble may break out before a final settlement is effected. It is pointed out that nobody has yet drawn from Eamonn de Valera, Irish Republican leaders, a statement towards the plan.

In this connection the Westminster Gazette says:

"De Valera will not openly oppose the agreement if he can be persuaded that it is for the permanent peace of Ireland."

The paper also learns, it says that the government view is: "We are not out of the woods yet, there may be troubles and difficulties ahead."

The only opposing voice of consequence thus far is that of Sir Edward Carson former Ulster leader, who is quoted by the Morning Post as declaring: "I never thought that I should live to see the day of such abject humiliation for Great Britain."

The old rumor is revived that one of the king's sons may be appointed the first governor general of Ireland.

Provides Irish Free State and grants by Sinn Fein of Allegiance to the Empire

LONDON—The British cabinet, at its meeting unanimously approved the draft agreement with the Sinn Fein and congratulated Mr. Lloyd George and the members of the delegation on the Irish settlement.

King George telegraphed Mr. Lloyd George the usual congratulations on the reaching of the Irish agreement.

The message read:

"I am overjoyed to hear the splendid news you have just sent me. I congratulate you with all my heart on the successful termination of these difficult and protracted negotiations, which is due to the patience and conciliatory spirit which you have shown throughout, and I am indeed happy in some small way to have contributed by my speech in Belfast to this great achievement."

Live Stock Breeders Should Bend Efforts To Increase Efficiency

With livestock farming acting, as it always will, as the main contributing factor in the upbuilding of the economy of the land and of a permanent type of agriculture, there should never be a time when the livestock breeder need curtail his breeding opportunities or lose sight of his goal—quality live stock for efficient production. In periods of low prices, it is sometimes necessary for the farmer to neglect the future in order to take care of the present. It may also be necessary for a farmer who lacks capital to follow methods which he would change under other conditions. But, in general, it is advisable to follow a system of livestock farming that will ensure a steady and ever-increasing return.

Such returns cannot be looked for when the breeder is handling stock of questionable production. The breeder must own "in and out" system. Under such a system, he is usually "out" when he has the "in," and vice versa. On the other hand, the breeder who has high quality, productive stock and who holds on through thick and thin, reap the benefits of a law of supply and demand which raises prices to a remunerative level. It is not sufficient to produce "every other" year. The breeder should be bent to increase the efficiency of the livestock. The breeder who did not get rid of his poorest stock would find that they were at a high level indeed a golden opportunity, but it is no reason why he should let them remain in his hands of now. It would, in many cases, be more economical to give them away than to keep them. Practically every farmer who breeds for the future should not be too sure of his stock, but he should be sure of his own herd and flocks for new blood. It is to continue to improve. Therein lies the money side, for even the breeder of high-class stock has been hit, though not as hard as the breeder of lower-class stock, and he has had to meet the falling off in demand by a reduction of prices. As a consequence, the breeder of quality to bring about rapid improvement in the average herd or flock has been obtained at reasonable prices. This is particularly true of sheep and swine and to a lesser degree of cattle and horses. Any farmer or breeder who feels or knows that he is handicapped under the present conditions by the lack of productivity or quality in his stock, should take steps immediately to secure improved lines to put at the head of his herd and flock. Undoubtedly, there is no way in which improvement can be wrought more thoroughly and more economically than through the use of improved stock. If you have been using scrub, replace them by pure-bred of the highest quality obtainable. If you have been using pure-bred sires, have given their progeny a decent chance and have not achieved any improvement, then the pure-bred used could not have been of desirable type and quality. Discard them and, when procuring others, demand and get even though at greater cost, sires from proven ancestry.

While the use of top-notch sires is one of the best methods of improvement where capital is limited, the introduction of a few choice females into the herd or flock, where capital will permit, will bring about the desired improvement much earlier. Let every person, then, who calls himself or herself a "breeder of livestock," than which there is no nobler effort, make every effort and gain the present opportunity to put their herds and flocks into a state of efficiency that will enable them to produce generously throughout any kind of a seasonal or market situation. Bring back livestock by being industrious. It is desirable to be industrious and to accomplish anything, but not so with the efficiency industries.

Very Far Away
Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson tells a story of a three-line wounded soldier, who listened to a conscription officer and pacifist thumping each other on the chest. The soldier asked him why he was not in khaki. Said the "conch": "I am not one of your militarists. I am a soldier of peace, and God is my Colonel." "Then," rejoined the soldier, "all I can say is that you are a — long way from your barracks!"

Among some of the tribes in the Arctic region, a man who wants a horse leaves home in anger and does not return for several days. The wife takes the hint and departs.

For centuries in China a woman has had the choice of keeping her maiden name after marriage.

Made Spies a Specialty

Sir Basil Thomson Did Good Work During War

Under a big scheme of police reorganization that is going on at the moment, Scotland Yard loses the picturesque head of its "Special Branch." Sir Basil Thomson, who knows more about really dangerous criminals, spies, anarchists, and that sort of cattle generally than any other man in England. Sir Basil, who has been governor of two famous prisons—Brixton and Wormwood Scrubs—began his long official life (he is now due for retirement under the age limit) in the "South Sea Islands, having been appointed head of the Tonga Government when he was only 29 years of age. His experiences in that capacity are most largely related in his entertaining book, "The Divisions of a Prime Minister," and he has a number of other admirable volumes to his credit.

This best work for the country was undoubtedly done during the war, when he felt it his lot to break up the huge German spy system which had grown up in this country while we slumbered in a false security. He could, and he would, tell some astonishing stories of those days—particularly about the pretty woman who was engaged in espionage on behalf of the German Government. On the other hand, there was a certain amount of young women who alleged either that they were German spies or the influence of people in the past. These, though not so dangerous, were scarcely less troublesome than the others. "If Sir Basil cannot find a book worth reading," from the Overseas Daily Mail.

Dinner for Juvenile Exhibitors

Contestants at Calgary Winter Fair. Guests of Honor.

Eighty highly, husky, red-checked girls and boys from farms in Alberta, were the guests of honor at a dinner tendered to them at Calgary. The children, then, were those who were the best of the baby beef, baby lamb and pig feeding contests held at the Calgary Winter Fair just closed.

It was an occasion of significance to interest the girls in Alberta today on the farms in farm life. Every one of these juvenile exhibitors present at the dinner had brought his or her petting calf or pet lamb or pig to the show and many of them had secured valuable prizes. One little girl, Miss Muriel Petting, of Camrose, had won a prize for her baby lamb, but a cheque "big enough to buy a farm of her own."

Meat-Eating Birds Live Longest

Eagles and Crows Live On Average 100 Years.

An investigation has been made into the subject of the longevity of birds. With one notable exception, the carnivorous birds are the longest-lived. The exception is the swan. The average ages of some of the best known birds are given in the following list: Blackbirds 15 years; black cap, 10 years; canary, 24; crane, 24; crow, 100; eagle, 100; falcon (common), 50; hawk, 13; night hawk, 18; parrot, 60; partridge, 15; peacock, 24; pelican, 30; pheasant, 15; pigeon, 20; raven, 100; robin, 12; sparrow, 10; sparrow-hawk, 40; swan, 100; thrush, 10; and wren, 3 years.

Studies Proposal To

Bury Unknown Soldier

Government Is Now Giving Attention To The Details

Arrangements for the burial of the unknown Canadian soldier in the Vimy Trench will be carefully studied by the government. "We will have to arrange the details of bringing the body to Ottawa and also make preparations for its reception in the Vimy Trench," says Sir James Loughhead, acting head of the government states. It is not expected that the detailed programme will be completed for some time, although John Pearson, architect in charge of the new parliament building, is preparing plans of the location of the grave. This plan, it is understood, will be available for inspection shortly.

The first umbrella made in England was of oilskin on a wooden frame and was so heavy that it took two men to carry it, it is reported. Unfortunately, umbrellas in those days are more easily removed.

Inventions By Women

Many of Them Are Drawing Large Yearly Income

In spite of the fact that women are looked upon as the un inventive sex, they have a fairly good number of inventions set down to their credit. Women, when they turn inventors, do not occupy themselves exclusively with curling tongs and clothespins. Many of them take out patents on agricultural implements, mining machinery, electrical contrivances and the like.

There are more than a hundred women who receive big incomes every year from their patents, and there are other patents which will yield similar fortunes when they are set off. One woman draws $5,000 a year for an improved glove-buttoner. A patent of clothes hanger is supplying another woman with a generous amount of pin money. The invention of new games and toys for children supplies many women with a regular income. In fact, all of these women accomplish in this line is to know, because often the inventions are bought directly by the firms which intend to use them, and the inventor's share, however small, is secured.

A line where women are becoming increasingly inventive is that of patent medicines, complexion cream, beauty and perfume. These articles are so much in demand and attention is so easily attracted to them that many a woman has achieved a fortune either through the merit of her magic formula or her shrewdness in placing it upon the market.

Motorless Airplanes

German Machine Stayed In Air For Thirteen Minutes

One of the most interesting flights ever made by man took place recently in Germany for the soaring and gliding competition for motorless flying machines. One of the aviators remained in the air thirteen minutes, "circling, turning and balancing like a soaring bird." He travelled six miles between start and finish, and at one time was at a height estimated to be at least three hundred feet.

The cotton weavers of the Little City of Gungnam in France first hit upon the idea of dyeing the thread before it was woven and then placing it in the loom so that it would form a pattern of stripes and checks. Hence the dainty and pretty spring gowns so popular today.

Experimental Work Of Field Husbandry Station Helps Practical Farming

"Slaves" Help Wounded

Desert Tribes Said to Have Descended From Crusaders

A tribe of little men who carry very long arms has recently been described by a traveler. They dress in gaudy silks, have a cross marked on their backs and live in the neighborhood of Mosul, in Asia Minor, where they are known as "Slaves."

They have no religion, but are very peaceable, and are noted for helping any wounded person or animal. This quaint desert tribe is supposed to be directly descended from the Crusaders. The Arabs despise them and call them wild dogs, and they are described as the "captives" of blacksmiths and druggists for men and beasts among the Bedouins.

All-Metal House In Ohio

May Not Be As Durable As Brick Or Stone

The first metal house has just been built at Canton, Ohio. Walls, roof, doors, columns and cupboards, all of steel, and the only wood used is on the floors, the inside of metal doors being too great. It is claimed that the house is absolutely proof against fire, rats and spiders. The interior walls can be plastered or papered.

Good Argument For Seed Testing

Recent tests have shown that approximately 60 per cent. of the seed sown by farmers and gardeners is useless. An series of tests, carried out over a thousand acreage, proved that the seed was responsible for the harvest yielding a third less than the ground's capacity.

A Mr. Cobb has married a Miss Wood. He knew that she was meant to be joined as soon as he could.

Field Husbandry Experiments Have

a very direct relationship with practical farming whether the farmer be grain grower, fruit grower, or both combined. The grain grower requires the best seed obtainable of the best varieties of wheat, oats, barley and rye. He endeavors to determine which are the best varieties and then to breed better ones and put the seed out to people who will increase it and make it available for all. The stock grower, both grain and livestock, endeavors to serve him by determining the best kinds of forage crops and the best methods of producing them. The grower of both grain and livestock is interested in both these phases of experiment work and also in crop rotation. The points and the best standard varieties and to the best advantage. The field husbandry experiments at Saskatoon are designed to serve all these classes of farm, the grain farm, the livestock farm, the diversified farm and the truck farm. If we may liken the work of the field husbandry department to the structure of a building, we would consider the experimental work as the foundation, the grain farm, the livestock farm, the diversified farm and the truck farm as the superstructure. The field husbandry department is the best of the other activities of the department.

The products of an experiment station consist of two things: The first is the knowledge of the farmer, and the second is the record. Every crop is used in maintaining the accuracy of the records and the purity of the seeds. Special bookkeeping methods are devised and used for the purpose of recording the results. Since there are now 5,000 bushels of seed in the hands of the farmer, it is not a small task. We are constantly endeavoring to improve our system of record keeping to make it more efficient and complete.

The seeds which we distribute are not only highly favored and cleaned but are hand picked if need be to take out any impurity that the fanning mill fails to remove. Every lot of seed sent out during the past season has been hand picked. On account of the large number of seeds, it is impossible to do so. But we put these seeds out under a rigid guarantee that they may be returned and the purchase price will be refunded. This year not a seed came back. This record speaks volumes for the faithfulness of the men who would do the work.

Make Hens Exercise

Very Necessary When Birds Are Housed For Winter

Fresh grain in a deep litter on the floor and make the exercise for it. This will be necessary when foraging stops and hens are housed. The much may be fed either wet or dry, and should be so regulated that the fowls will get about equal parts of mash and of the scratch grains. It is necessary to give the fowls plenty of oat to get good results, but the birds should always be eager for their feed. In cold weather feed about one-third of the scratch grains in the morning and two-thirds at night. In this way the hens are forced to exercise more than if they receive all the grain they desire at the morning feed.

CHAPTER XV.

In Search of Rest

June brought all the young people home again. It brought, also, a great deal of talk concerning plans for vacation. Bessie—Elizabeth—said they must all go away.

From James Hildell this brought a sudden and vigorous remonstrance. "Nonsense, you've just got home!" he exclaimed. "Hillerton! He's a vacation to you all right. Besides, I want my family together again. I haven't seen a thing of my children for six months."

Elizabeth gave a silver laugh. (Elizabeth had learned to give very silver laughs.) She shrugged her shoulders slightly and looked at her rings.

"Hillerton? He? You wouldn't really dream to go to Hillerton all summer, daddy."

"What's the matter with Hillerton?" "What isn't the matter with Hillerton?" she laughed the daughter again. "But I thought we would have some rings, stamper, or something apologetically. 'Take them from where you know, and give them to where you want.' I've always wanted to do that; and we can now, dear."

"Auto, trust!" Peter shrugged Elizabeth. "Why, summer, we're going to the shore for, dear! Just to the mountains for August. You and Sunday and I and Fred's going, too, only he'll be at the Gaylord camp in the Adirondacks, part of the time."

"Is that true, Fred?" James Hildell's eyes, fixed on his son, were half-closed, half-curious.

Fred retired restlessly.

"Well, I sort of had to, governor," he apologized. "Honestly, I did. There are some things a man has to do. Gaylord asked me, and—Hank it all, I don't know why I have to look at me as if I were committing a crime, dad."

"You aren't, dear, you aren't," flattered Fred's mother hurriedly, "and I'm sure it's lovely you've got the chance to go to the Gaylord camp. And it's right, quite right, that you should travel this summer, as Bessie—Erizabeth suggests. I never thought, but, of course, you young people don't want to be hipped up in Hillerton all summer."

"Get your eyes, all we don't matter," shrugged Fred, calmly avoiding his father's eyes, after all that grating.

"Grind, Fred!"

But Fred had turned away, and did not, apparently, hear his father's repeated question.

Mrs. Smith learned all about the vacation plans a day or two later from Benny.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 10, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "My dear Sir, I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble, and two doctors' medicine relieved me, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

"You, you didn't take any of that Benson dog-meat stock!" interrupted Miss Maggie sharply.

Mr. Smith's hammer stopped, as he looked at his wife.

"Oh, no, no!" I asked Mr. Chalmers. "But he said better. 'That I didn't.' Miss Maggie relaxed in her chair, and Mr. Smith's hammer fell with a gentle tap on the nail-head.

"But I feel real bad about it—when Miss Benson had been so kind to offer it, you know. It looked sort of like a dog's head."

"Ungrateful!" Miss Maggie's voice came back to her. "I suspect he was just trying to tempt you. Your money without asking Mr. Chalmers' advice. So Frank says, 'I didn't tell you I didn't,' challenged Miss Benson. 'But I told you I didn't,' she said. 'That it was good stock, and it was splendidly. Jane took some. She took a lot.'"

"Jane!—but I thought Frank would not let her!"

"Oh, Frank, said all right, if she wanted to, she might. I suspect he got tired of her teasing, and it did pay splendidly. Why, tell me, how many five-cent pieces, probably, this year, Mr. Benson says."

"So Frank says, 'I didn't tell you I didn't,' challenged Miss Benson. 'But I told you I didn't,' she said. 'That it was good stock, and it was splendidly. Jane took some. She took a lot.'"

"Sold them!" Why, I should as soon think of selling my soul for a pound of butter. "I thought they were inseparable."

"Little fear!" because he's separated 'em. Miss Flora was rocking her baby. "But why?" demanded Miss Maggie.

"YOUR TEETH"

DEAD NERVES

By IRMA PROCTOR, Medical Nurse, M.D., Editor "Dental Hygiene"

We don't really mean dead nerves when we say it—what we do mean is that the pulp has died. It is the pulp that has died, and it is the pulp that is the cause of the trouble. A pulp is a little soft connective tissue with blood vessels and nerve fibres that is found inside the tooth and is necessary to the life of the tooth.

The pulp is very sensitive and delicate. If they are exposed they die; in fact, they die sometimes when they are not exposed. Those that die without actual exposure have been irritated by tooth decay or improper use, or injury, so that the pulp swells in its bony case and chokes itself.

The tooth pulp could stand much more irritation if it had room to swell, but in the little canal inside the tooth there is no room. As soon as the pulp is irritated enough to swell ever so little, the pressure stops the incoming of the arterial blood and then the circulation stops and decomposition begins.

It is very unfortunate to have a pulp in a tooth die.

It is true that many times the dead pulp is successfully removed and the tooth artificially filled so that the tooth remains useful for a long period, but many pulpless teeth are discarded and a filling of a tooth canal is a very difficult and skillful operation.

One who does not take good care of the teeth and mouth that you will not take chances on having infection from abscessed teeth.

By keeping the teeth clean and having small cavities filled at once, long, tedious and sometimes painful operations can be avoided, sound teeth in good position and with live healthy nerves do not give trouble; they do their work willingly.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for them. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. THIS WOMAN'S RECOVERY

Shows Remarkable Restorative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chester, Ont.—"Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had terrible pain in my sides and was not regular. Finally I got so weak I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest half way up the steps. I tried two doctors but they did me no good. I saw your advertisement in the newspapers and thought I would give it a trial. I took four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and was restored to health. I am married, and do all my housework, milk eight cows, and do a blood man's work and enjoy the best of health. I also found Vegetable Compound a great help for my weak back before my babies were born. I recommend it to all my friends who are in need of medicine. You may print this letter if you wish." Mrs. Henry Lantz, R. R. No. 4, Chester, Ontario.

It is hardly possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After all the evidence that is continually being published proving beyond any question that this great old medicine has more power and more effect than any other medicine in the world.

Direct Wireless From Australia to England

Premier Hughes Has Announced Details of Proposed Scheme

Premier Wm. Hughes has submitted to the Australian House of Representatives the details of the proposed direct wireless scheme between Australia and the United Kingdom, according to a cable from Renter's Melbourne correspondent. The Commonwealth and the Amalgamated Wireless Company will jointly become responsible for financing the scheme, the premier stated, and the Commonwealth will secure the controlling interest.

The Commonwealth and Amalgamated Company will forthwith construct a high-power station to carry a direct commercial service between Australia, the United Kingdom and Canada, according to the agreement. The main trunk stations are to be erected within two years. The rates generally will be twofold of the existing cable charges.

Premier Hughes, in submitting the scheme to the house, added that it was an alternative to the link scheme submitted at the Imperial Conference. The cable message adds that there is little doubt that the proposed agreement will be accepted by the Australian Government.

Canadian Factories Get Bulk of Home Trade

Ninety-five per cent. of all the boots and shoes sold in Canada in 1919 were made by Canadian plants. Canadian factories manufactured 1,460,141 pairs of leather boots and shoes of which the selling value at the factory door was $4,213,116. In the same year, 1920-21, imports of boots and shoes were valued at $2,300,121, and exports at $1,411,538.

Would Not Be Without BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would not be without them. The tablets are a perfect home remedy. They regulate the bowels and stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make baby healthy and happy. Concerning them, Mrs. Noble A. Pye, Secaucus, N.J., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets of great benefit for my children and I would not be without them. The tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

New Use For Warships One Service As Fish-Drying Factory at Port Ellen

M. Albert Barratt, French Minister for the Colonies, who is now at the Washington Conference, may be able, if consulted, to give useful hints as to what to do with the old battleships. Just before he sailed for America he made a tour of the French West African colonies, and at Port Ellen he visited former French cruiser Chassepoteau Loubat, which now serves as a useful purpose. A fishing at anchor in the bay, it serves as a shelter for the boats of the fishery. On its decks sixty tons of fish can be dried at one time. Port Ellen is the centre of a steadily-growing dried fish industry and to the Chassepoteau Loubat all fishing boats bring the cargoes to be cured and dried.

That which lives longest in the memory of mankind is that glorious Christmas morning when childhood's dream came true, and the saddest time in any child's life is when Santa Claus passes by that child's home and showers gifts lavishly among his or her playmates.

Oh! parents, don't fail in your duty, so clear.
Make Christmas real and happy to all you hold dear.

Grassy Lake

GRASSY LAKE, Dec. 3.—A meeting to hear Dr. Lovering for federal honours took place last Thursday, Dec. 1 in the G. W. V. A. hall at 9 o'clock. Some sixty turned up to hear the doctor, mostly out of curiosity, as so much has been heard of him these last few years he has been located in Lethbridge.

As he told the audience he had sent his photo to all the electors in this district, but it did not in his opinion do him justice, so he now produced the original, and hoped everyone would like it.

Mr. Wm. McCrosbie presided and after a few remarks introduced the worthy doctor.

Last Tuesday Dec. 6th, a dance was held in the G. W. V. A. hall and the election returns were announced at each half hour.

Mr. William Bower after working all fall at Saskatchewan has returned home.

Alex. Walker is expected to return here in the spring with his wife and family from Winifred, Ont. which place he left for last Saturday.

Alex Hutchinson, our local blacksmith, Tom Oddie and Bill Bower left Tuesday for Calthness, B.C. where they expect to find work for the winter.

BORN—to Mr. and Mrs. Harry James a fine baby girl on the 25th. They are both doing fine.

A dance was held at the Morning Star school house and all report a good time.

Last Thursday afternoon at Knox church manes, Lethbridge, a quiet wedding took place. Mr. Herbert Krug from south of town was joined in wedlock to Miss Rose Marie Kuhnle, the ceremony being happily performed by Rev. J. Phillips Jones and attended by Miss Emma Kuhnle and Miss Anna Krug, sisters of the bride and groom. The happy couple are spending two weeks twining in Calgary, after which they will leave for Kitcheng, Ont., to spend the winter. They will be back on the farm early in the spring, in time for farm operation. As the young couple are very popular they have the congratulations of the community, who wish them all happiness.

FOCH SMOKES
PIPE OF PEACE*Will now be known as "Charging Thunder" among the Sioux

HISMARK, N.D.—Marshal Foch and Foch smoked the pipe of peace here with Chief Red Tomahawk, cementing forever the friendship of the Dakota Sioux Indians and the French nation. The presentation of the pipe of peace was part of a tumultuous reception given the French soldier by thousands of people who came from many towns in Western North Dakota.

The dialogue of Marshal Foch and Chief Red Tomahawk, the Indian who killed Sitting Bull after the latter had led the rebellious Sioux into the massacre of General Custer's forces was conducted in three languages. An interpreter repeated the substance of Chief Red Tomahawk's remarks in English, while an aide repeated them in French to Marshal Foch.
